Union (hereinafter referred to as the "Union"), concerning property at 2101 Lexington Avenue, the same was submitted to the Undersigned for arbitration and Award pursuant to the pertinent provisions of the then current Collective Bargaining Agreement between the parties at a hearing scheduled for April 5, 2007.

In a letter to the Office of the Contract Arbitrator dated January 30, 2007, the Union alleged the following complaint on behalf of Victor Delgado, and the same was by mutual consent of the parties submitted to the Undersigned for adjudication and Award.

The above member, employed at the above building as a superintendent for one year and seven months, claims he was unjustly terminated, effective January 18, 2007.

We are claiming reinstatement to his prior position with full back pay, benefits, seniority and contributions to the benefit funds lost by his unjust termination.

DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

Delgado was the Superintendent at the A. Kornegay Senior Houses, 2101 Lexington Avenue, for approximately one and one-half (1½) years prior to his termination on January 18, 2007. During that eighteen (18) month period: he was reprimanded on October 17, 2005, for disregarding Manager Lorraine Davis' instruction regarding a purchase of mop heads (Employer Exhibit 1); he was insubordinate towards Davis on November 30, 2006, when he disregarded her instructions and ignored her authority in connection with a dispute with Security (Employer Exhibit 2); he was warned for being insubordinate towards Site Supervisor Sharmaine Butcher on November 21, 2005, in connection with her instructions concerning his interactions with Security (Employer Exhibit 3); he received a second written warning for insubordination on April 17, 2006, for interfering with Security and for using loud and vulgar language toward a porter in the presence of tenants on April 16, 2006 (Employer Exhibit 4); on April 24, 2006, he received a third and final warning for interfering with and being unprofessional toward building Security (Employer Exhibit 5); and he received a second final written warning on July 19, 2006, for insubordinate and erratic behavior toward Davis (Employer Exhibit 7), which further cautioned Delgado "any further infractions" will result in suspension without pay and possible termination.

Thereafter, on January 15, 2007, Delgado entered the apartment of a deceased tenant, and threw out items in the apartment he believed were garbage. He was not authorized to enter the apartment, and in fact was not scheduled to work on that day. It turns out the items he discarded were not garbage, and a DVD player and a microwave oven were not recovered. Employer Exhibit 8. On January 18, 2007, Delgado was terminated for "illegally entering a tenant's apartment and removing personal property without authorization on your day off."

With respect to the latter incident, Delgado contends he was ordered into the apartment by Davis, and told to prepare it for the next tenant. He contends he cleaned out the apartment consistent with Davis' instructions.

Under the parties' Collective Bargaining Agreement, I must "give due consideration to the Superintendent's fiduciary and management responsibilities and to the need for cooperation between the Superintendent and the employer." I credit Davis' testimony concerning the Employer's repeated difficulties obtaining cooperation from Delgado during his brief tenure as Superintendent. Delgado, in contrast, was not a credible witness, particularly with respect to his role in instigating conflicts with Site Management and Security after his termination. Employer Exhibits 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15. I find, therefore, the Employer had grounds for terminating his employment.

With respect to the Union's claim Delgado is entitled to severance pay, the evidence does not persuade me that Delgado deliberately provoked his dismissal or that his conduct constituted a willful or substantial violation of the obligations of his employment. Accordingly, he shall be entitled to four (4) weeks pay. Delgado shall vacate the apartment within 30 days from the date of the Award. I retain jurisdiction only over disputes concerning severance pay.

It is so ordered.

Dear Mr. Delgado:

I am a physician, Board Certified in Psychiatry, and I have been treating you since April 20, 2007.

You are 56 years old and became depressed in January 2007. This occurred after losing your job as superintendent. A decreased appetite with a ten-pound weight loss, a sleep disturbance with difficulty falling asleep and remaining asleep, feelings of hopelessness, withdrawal from social contact, tearfulness and suicidal impulses characterized your disorder. In addition there is a recurrence of symptoms of post traumatic stress disorder that originally occurred after your service in the marines in Vietnam.

Your formal diagnosis is Major Depressive Disorder, DSM IV 296.25.

I have been treating you with antidepressant medication and psychotherapy and you are responding gradually to treatment. .

Very truly yours,

B. Bernie Herron, M.D.

From: A. Konegay Senior Housing tenant committee

We, the tenants and families residing in said building, are very upset and disappointed regarding Miss Davis unprofessional behavior, attitude and nasty negative remarks. She denies and rejects us when we approach her services.

We the tenants go downstairs to get our mail; we congregate and socialize among ourselves. Miss Davis comes out of her office with nasty remarks and attitude telling us to leave the lobby. She has her office door constantly locked, and when we knock on her door for issues as well as problems she refuses to respond. And if she does respond, she does so in a very nasty way.

Miss Davis is very unprofessional in the way she carries matters. We want her removed from office management as soon as possible.

Thank you,

(The Tenant Committee)
